Clear Sky
Over Berlin

Fabian Wohlfart, the wondrous wordsmith, wanders through creativity's cryptic chasms. Emerging from a prestigious university in Darmstadt's depths, he crafts captivating creations and conjures curious conundrums. He toils beneath the banner of Another Code Project, a Berlin-based bastion brimming with bewildering websites, APIs, and digital delights. Prepare to be spellbound by Fabian's collaborations with esteemed establishments, both near and far, as they shatter the somber stronghold of your soulless existence. With a profound grasp of the digital domain, his past as a pedagogue at Burg Giebichenstein University of Art and Design lends him the power to unlock hidden creative potentials within eager students. Behold! Don't overlook his eclectic editorship at Food&, where he audaciously blends traditional gastronomic notions into a wild whirlwind of culinary confusion.
